*Please ignore this email if you have recently provided your demographic information for the same award.

WE NEED YOUR HELP REPORTING ON A PROJECT TO THE NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION (NSF).

You have been identified by the Principal Investigator/co-Principal Investigator(s) as contributing to the following NSF-supported project:

Award Number: 1647084

PI/co-PI(s): Flavio Esposito

Project Title: US Ignite: Collaborative Research: Focus Area 2: Resilient Virtual Path Management for Scalable Data-intensive Computing at Network-Edges

The PI/co-PI(s) of NSF-supported projects are required to report progress and results to NSF. As part of that report, NSF wants to gather demographic information (i.e., gender, ethnicity, race, and disability status) about participants like you who contribute significantly to the project.

To provide demographic data, please click on this link or copy and paste it into your web browser.

<https://www.fastlane.nsf.gov/cgi-bin/people>

Your Temporary PIN: 4816

The URL above will direct you to FastLane, where you will be prompted to enter your name, NSF award number, and your PIN (above). You will then be asked to choose a new PIN. The next screen will provide you with further instructions and an explanation of why NSF is collecting this information and what NSF will do with the information.

The whole process should take you less than five minutes. If you experience problems, please contact the NSF Help Desk at 1-800-381-1532 or helpdesk@nsf.gov. You can also report the problem to NSF using the comment feature provided in this system.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR COOPERATION AND CONTRIBUTION TO THE PROJECT.
